I enjoy managing multiple issues and time pressures and getting the job done for my clients, with the client not knowing or having to worry about the crisis and chaos I was able to prevent on their behalf. They hire me to see the big picture, anticipate the future and efficiently handle every problem that has the potential of derailing their project plans. I identify risks and advance creative solutions that don't cost a lot of time and money, while sincerely caring about the success of my clients' deals as much as they do.

Cameron "Todd" Ware is hired by start-up and established companies across the U.S. and globally to advise and assist on real estate and natural resource development opportunities in the southeastern United States. For visionary developers who see opportunity in creative redevelopment of existing or abandoned properties, Todd has the experience to help them not only achieve their end goals, but identify, structure and monetize interim opportunities. Todd brings knowledge, efficiencies and economies to hungry entrepreneurs and growing companies. The first time they encounter a unique issue – something they haven't seen before – is the time to call Todd. Clients include natural resource developers, homebuilders, residential subdivision developers, large commercial retail/office/mixed use developers, entrepreneurial investors and developers, family-owned businesses, and property/hoa associations. He is also experienced in telecom and cell tower location and regulation and understands how to navigate the related morass of local, state
