The objective of my practice, first and foremost, is to work hard to earn the trust my clients place in me and assist them in accomplishing their estate planning goals. I am passionate about aiding my clients in handling what matters most to them and their families. Taking time with each client to ensure that their unique needs are met effectively and efficiently is of the utmost importance to my practice.

David White is a devoted trusts and estates attorney with a focus on estate planning, and estate administration. His practice encompasses assisting clients throughout the estate planning process through the preparation of will, trusts agreements, powers of attorney, and premarital agreements.

Prior to joining Johnston Allison Hord, David earned his Juris Doctorate from Widener University Delaware Law School and began his legal career as an associate attorney at a firm in Wilmington, DE. In addition to his trusts and estates experience, he also served as a volunteer attorney representing children in neglect, dependency and abuse hearings in Delaware Family Court.
