My versatile background allows me to approach problems from a unique angle and come up with creative solutions that will achieve the best outcome for my clients. This versatility accompanied with my transactional expertise will make me an advantageous asset in all aspects of your ever-changing corporate landscape. Additionally, my client focused approach will guarantee open lines of communication and that your goals are the center of my focus.

Jaylyn Powell is an experienced corporate attorney who focuses her practice on representing closely held businesses in matters regarding business transactions, mergers and acquisitions, and corporate governance. She partners with her clients using both her legal degree and MBA to help companies with purpose and vision realize their full potential. With her varied experience representing corporate clients, including providing legal counsel to companies that franchise their business, Jaylyn offers unique skills and expertise to her clients.

After graduating from Elon School of Law, Jaylyn began her career as a domestic violence and general family law trial attorney in the Greensboro, NC area. Upon graduating with her MBA, she then transitioned to practicing franchise law at a local Charlotte, NC firm where she negotiated, drafted and reviewed intricate contracts before joining the Corporate Practice Group at Johnston Allison Hord.
